

Mystery Man Says China Visit Due to Curiosity

Blackwood Says He Was Disappointed

Hopes to Return To U.S.; Sorry About Actions

HONG KONG (AP)—Donald Jackson Blackwood, 24, whose disappearance two months ago became a cold war mystery, said today he went into Red China out of "curiosity" but was "disappointed" with what he saw.

Blackwood, of Cincinnati, Ohio, returned by ferry boat to Hong Kong this morning with his North Korean-born wife and small child. The Chinese Communists expelled them Thursday across the border into the Portuguese colony of Macao.

"I WAS CURIOUS to see China and learn all about it," Blackwood told newsmen today. "Now that I've made the trip I am disappointed and sorry." He called the trip an "irresponsible gesture on my part" and admitted quietly he had disobeyed a State Department ban on travel to Red China.

"Although I made the trip I consider myself a loyal American," he said. "I am sorry I went and I am sorry I disobeyed the State Department ruling."

BLACKWOOD, A former enlistee in the Air Force, said he met his wife while in the service. He married her after he returned from the United States in the spring of 1955 as a civilian. He said she strongly opposed the trip to Red China.

Asked how he entered China without a visa he replied, "A rickshaw boy, a sampan man and 100 U.S. dollars. He said he was ferried to the Chinese shore opposite Macao in the early hours of April 28.

He said the Chinese read him a statement charging him with illegal entry and "we then left within five minutes." But he said if it hadn't been for the expulsion order he would have stayed longer. "I was planning to see Peking, Shanghai and North Korea."

"MY PERSONAL desire to see China was stronger than my will to abide by the State Department ruling," he said.

Blackwood said he planned to return to the United States and work for his father, a drive-in restaurant owner who flew to Hong Kong to search for his missing son. But he wasn't sure when he would return because of "State Department technicalities."

Sinatra Tax Lien Lifted

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The federal government has lifted a $109,000 tax lien against singer Frank Sinatra filed by the collector of internal revenue for the Upper Manhattan District of New York.

The government filed the clearance Thursday in federal District Court. The lien was brought March 23, 1953 but the government said in the clearance that the claim for income taxes for the years 1946 through 1948 and for 1951 had been satisfied.

Dissension in Russian Army Leadership Reported, Zhukov Control Threatened

Lung Cancer Linked to Over-Smoking

U.S. Public Health Service Issues Official Statement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Public Health Service said today there is "increasing and consistent evidence" that "excessive" cigarette smoking is one of the causes of lung cancer.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said studies have "confirmed beyond a reasonable doubt that there is a high degree of statistical association between lung cancer and heavy prolonged cigarette smoking."

He issued the statement after the Public Health Service completed a review of the report of a study group on smoking and health, which found a "direct relationship between the incidence of lung cancer and the amount smoked."

IT WAS THE strongest statement the government has made to date on the subject.

Burney said copies, along with scientific findings, are being sent to state health officers and the American Medical Assn., "with the request that they consider distributing copies to local health officers, medical societies and other health groups."

The health service made no specific recommendations as to what the public should do in the light of its statement. A spokesman said "putting the facts before the public is as far as we can go at this time."

A SPOKESMAN for the U.S. tobacco industry said Burney's statement "adds nothing new to what has been known about the cause of lung cancer."

Dr. Clarence Cook Little, chairman of the scientific advisory board to the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, reiterated his group's stand that there is no "definitive" evidence to establish "a cause and effect explanation of the complex problem of lung cancer."

In its official position in 1954, the Public Health Service took a milder view, saying there was "some evidence of a statistical association between cigarette smoking and lung cancer."

Today's statement went much further, definitely labeling "excessive" cigarette smoking as a "causative" factor.

Two packs of cigarettes a day is considered "excessive," a spokesman said.

Indian Bill Hearing Set For Village

Saund Withholds Action Until Next Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. D. S. Saund (D-Calif.) said today a House subcommittee will hold hearings in Palm Springs later this year to consider legislation calling for creation of an Indian Tribal Lands Commission there.

Saund said that at his request the Indian Affairs Subcommittee of the House Interior Committee will hold the hearings after Congress adjourns.

The subcommittee will take testimony on an administration bill proposed recently which would set up a seven-man commission to administer Indian owned lands in the wealthy resort area.

The bill, suggested by the Interior Department, was introduced by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.).

Saund said he did not want to pass judgment on the proposal. He said "this matter is so important I thought hearings should be held before anything further is done with the legislation."

The congressman said he hoped that as a result of the hearings he could decide whether to introduce the administration bill in the House or propose a different measure.

Palm Desert Residents Urged To Give To Drive

Palm Desert residents were today urged to participate in a special Red Cross fund appeal to provide emergency funds for the relief of thousands of victims of Hurricane Audrey.

The appeal was announced today by the community's Red Cross Chapter. The dividing line between the Palm Springs and Coachella Valley Chapters is Del Sol Road.

Contributions from Palm Desert should be sent to George O'Toole, chapter treasurer, at the Bank of America, Jackson Street branch, Indio.

Council Okehs Representation, No One Named

A resolution authorizing Mayor Florian Boyd to name a city council representative at Congressional hearings on equalization of Indian tribal lands here has been passed by the city council.

It was erroneously reported that Councilman Ted McKinney had been appointed as the council representative, but no appointment has been made.

Desert Hot Springs to Have B of A Branch

Bank of America officials today announced construction of a new branch in Desert Hot Springs, the first bank ever planned for that community.

Fred G. Ingram, Palm Springs Bank of America branch manager, said leases have been signed for a new building scheduled to go up on the south side of Pierson Boulevard, about 400 feet west of Palm Drive. The property is owned by Robert E. Newman.

Ingram said the new branch will be open for business about Christmas time.

NEWMAN, Desert Hot Springs civic leader and Chamber of Commerce president, will erect a building measuring 35 by 100 feet. He said he also plans to construct smaller buildings on either side of the bank.

The branch will be under the supervision of the Palm Springs Bank of America and will offer complete banking service, including safe deposit and escrow facilities and interbranch services for customers of other branches.

TWELVE TELLER stations will be set up in the branch and adequate parking facilities will be provided.

Ingram pointed out that all Desert Hot Springs residents must now carry out their banking business in Palm Springs. This will be the first time Desert Hot Springs residents will be able to bank in their own community.

School District Insurance Battle Has Another Round

Ending a campaign of five years, insurance Broker Mrs. Al Lehrfeld last night fought what may have been the last round in her persistent battle to win school district fire insurance contracts.

The board of education took no action after an hour-long debate over what company should carry school fire policies of about $3 million, involving premiums of $14,342.

Schools Supt. Wallace Mueller withdrew his recommendation that the board cancel all existing policies and re-write them on a five-year term to take advantage of current low rates.

THE RECOMMENDATION, based on investigation of insurance consultant Schuyler Joyner, Los Angeles School District insurance expert, noted that policy rates are scheduled for a sharp climb.

Repeating arguments offered at the last board meeting on the insurance question, Mrs. Lehrfeld quoted possible savings to the district of $3,000 if her company was allowed to pick up all the policies.

She claimed it was "the first chance" she had had to present her case to the board since she embarked on her campaign in 1953.

HOWEVER, DISTRICT Insurance Consultant N. H. Curtis questioned the qualifications of Mrs. Lehrfeld's company, the American Motorist Co., in meeting the insurance standards of school policy.

Mrs. Lehrfeld reported that her company could carry its entire insurance load, but it was explained that district insurance is apportioned by the school's consulting

Irish Police Given Shoot To Kill Orders

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Police with shoot to kill orders guarded the Irish border against attacks by the outlawed Irish Republican Army during Northern Ireland's annual "Orange Day" celebrations today.

Northern Ireland police carried out a series of pre-dawn raids in County Fermanagh and arrested 20 men. Belfast police said the sweep was "purely a precautionary measure."

PREMIER EAMON de Valera dispatched 2,000 Republic of Ireland policemen to patrol the southern side of the winding 185-mile-long frontier.

Northern Ireland border police were ordered to shoot on sight anyone spotted crossing the frontier other than at authorized points.

It was the biggest concentrated attempt by the governments of both Northern Ireland and the Republic to block IRA movements since de Valera ordered a crackdown on the illegal extremist army at the beginning of World War II.

IT WAS THE tensest border situation in 20 years. Nearly 100 leaders of the IRA and the Sinn Fein party were rounded up by Irish police during the week. Thursday night's action was further indication of the Brooklyn-born premier meant business.

SKUNK VISITS VILLAGE, LEAVES CALLING CARD

A skunk came visiting, and house owners went swimming. In fact, the skunk came visiting twice yesterday before being killed by Humane Officer Bill Mueller, with the owner of one house not having to worry about it as she is on vacation for two months.

The unlucky area of town was May Drive, with the first report coming to Mueller during the early morning hours. He checked, and discovered via odor that it was not a pet deodorized skunk. He chased it out of the yard and across the desert, and figured that it had departed civilization. The owner of the house departed for the day.

Twenty minutes later another call came to Mueller, telling of a skunk in the yard of another house on May Drive, being found by someone watering the yard for the absent owner. This time Mueller decided to kill it, to protect other area residents. He did, the skunk did, and the owner can be happy she's gone for two months.

Elimination Of Rival Is Forecast

Seen Necessary To Keep Regime Now in Power

LONDON (AP)—Dissension in the top leadership of the Red Army was rumored today in informed diplomatic quarters.

Differences were reported to have emerged between Marshal Georgi Zhukov and Marshal Alexander Vassilievski, the "brain" behind Russia's wartime victories against Germany.

Vassilievski, Zhukov's deputy in the Ministry of Defense, was termed a potential rival to Zhukov in the struggle for power. He is also considered an advocate of a tougher policy towards the West.

THERE WAS NO official confirmation of these reports which reached London from behind the Iron Curtain today.

The reports suggested that the current differences may lead to the quiet disappearance from the Red Army leadership of Vassilievski in the near future.

The reports said Vassilievski failed to support the latest denunciation of the V. M. Molotov trio by party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Marshal Zhukov.

OTHER LEADING marshals of the Red Army have rallied enthusiastically behind Khrushchev and Zhukov, including Marshal Ivan Koniev, himself a former rival to Zhukov.

The indications were that the majority of the generals so far stand behind Zhukov, who this is in virtual control of the Red Army at present, now the most powerful single factor in keeping the Khrushchev regime in power.

However, these developments have thrown new light on the Red Army which thus far was considered as wholly united.

VASSILIEVSKI MUST thus be considered as a disturbing element in the Khrushchev's precarious struggle for power, experts said today.

They believed he might be removed, because Khrushchev would not feel secure while the apparently antagonistic marshal was in a responsible and powerful position, capable of exercising influence in the Red Army leadership.

Congress Starts Move Toward Mild Study Of Girard Case Instead of Drastic Action

WASHINGTON — Congress appeared today to be moving toward a mild study of the controversial Girard case instead of drastic action to scrap this nation's status-of-forces agreements with allies. In the House, leaders said they have a "good chance" to defeat attempts to revoke the agreements which govern whether the United States or a foreign government tries GIs for crimes committed abroad. They have decided to take a calculated risk on rounding up enough votes to kill such attempts.

AT THE SAME time, two major investigations of the Girard case and the status-of-forces agreements issue were proposed.

One by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) calls for setting up a special committee to study the entire question of trying U.S. servicemen and their dependents for crimes committed overseas.

The other by Rep. William H. Ayres (R-Ohio) calls for a joint House-Senate investigation of the Girard case. He said the public is entitled to know all about handling of the jurisdictional squabble.

THE SUPREME Court Thursday unanimously upheld the administration's decision to surrender Army Specialist 3c William S. Girard to Japan for manslaughter trial on charges of fatally shooting a Japanese woman.

The court said there is nothing in the Constitution—and Congress had passed no law—to prevent the government from agreeing to let U.S. servicemen be tried in foreign courts.

Sealed Envelope Contains Name Of Successor

GENEVA, Switzerland — A sealed envelope in the office of a Geneva lawyer was reported today to hold two of the Aga Khan's best kept secrets — the name of his chosen successor and the amount of his untold wealth.

The 79-year-old leader of the Ismaili sect of the Moslems died Thursday morning following a heart attack at his villa in suburban Versoix. And his tens of millions of followers were most anxious to learn whom the Aga Khan had chosen.

It was believed the letter, containing the Aga Khan's will, would be opened today or Saturday. Moslems were anxious to know if Prince Aly Khan, 41,—the nominal successor—or young Prince Sadruddin, 24, would inherit his father's leadership.

Farmers Get Sympathy But No Cut in Tax

"I have a little sympathy for the farmers," declared Supervisor Fred McCall. "Farmers are going to have to have some relief from taxes." He voted with the other four county supervisors, however, to deny a request by William E. Fox of Pasadena for a reduction in the assessed valuation of his 70-acre ranch located eight miles south of Indio.

A protest against the $13,350 assessed valuation on the property was voiced to the supervisors this week by Mrs. Fox, with a request that it be cut to $10,500.

MRS. FOX SAID the cost of production is up and taxes are higher, making it impossible to show a profit on the couple's alfalfa crop the past two years. County Assessor Frank Burchfield explained that other properties in the area are assessed at the same rate and it would not be fair to reduce the valuation for one property owner because of failure to make his farm pay.

SUPERVISOR GEORGE Berkeley, Indio realtor, said he knows of no property in the area where the Fox property is located that can be purchased for as little as $400 per acre. "I believe the amount set for assessed valuation on this property is low according to its market value," he declared. The Foxes paid $32,000 for the 70 acres in 1953.

In answer to McCall's expression of sympathy for farmers, Assessor Burchfield replied, "If you farm people would quit buying and selling land at prices you do, we could very well put the rates down." McCall grows potatoes in the Perris area.

The city council yesterday set Oct. 9 as hearing date on an appeal of a City Planning Commission zone change denial.

A resolution pledging Palm Springs cooperation in county operation of waste disposal dumps, aimed at combatting air pollution, was today on its way to the board of supervisors.

The resolution was unanimously approved by the city council yesterday.

The city agreed to assist the county in its program to end garbage burning by subscribing to the plan by which the county will take over all publicly owned dump sites.

County air pollution control plans specify that all dumps will be operated on a cut-and-fill basis. The council yesterday requested that the county take over the municipal dump sites "as soon as possible."

Daisies Merit All Praise Due Simple Plant

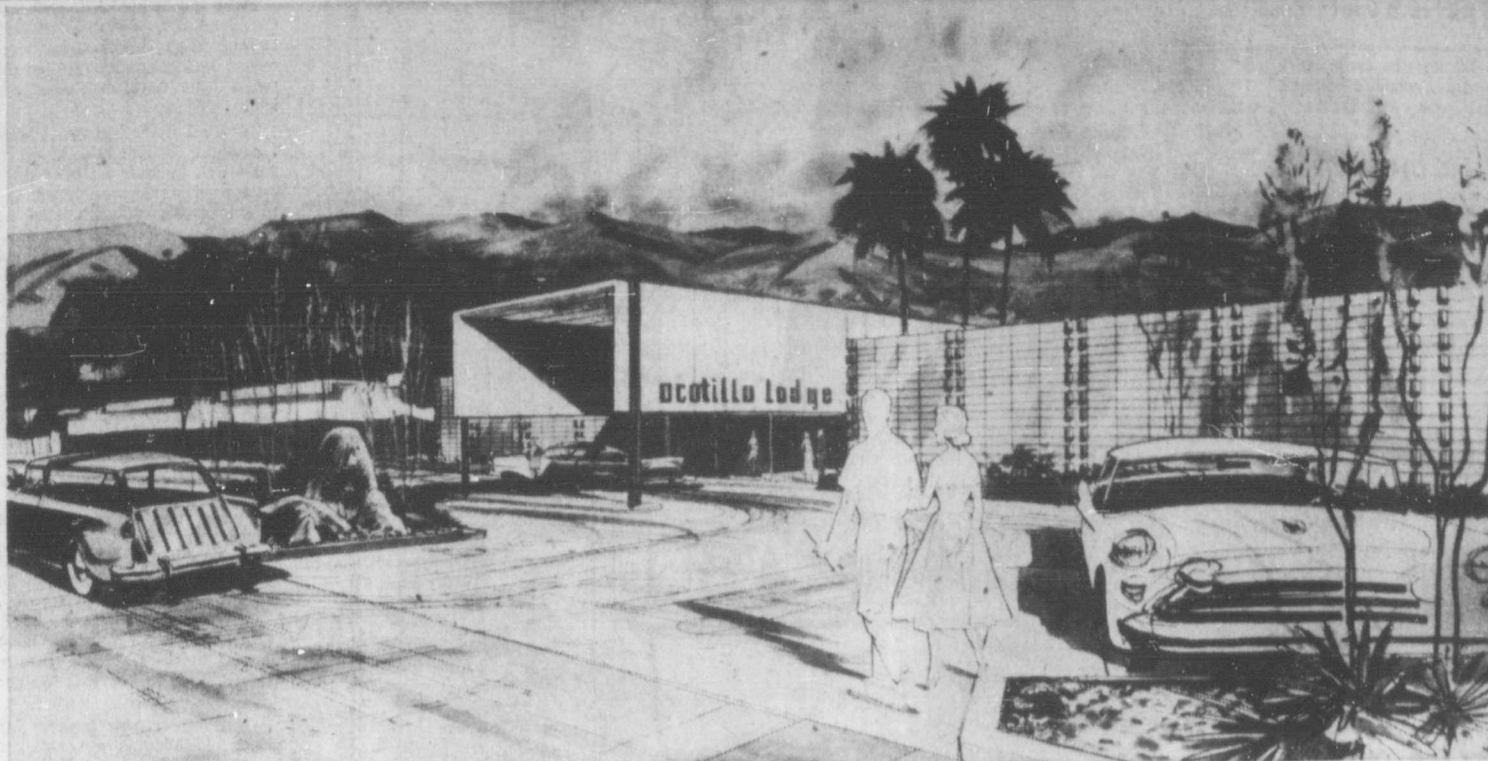

Perhaps the very ease with which the simple and unassuming Daisy is grown prompts it from receiving the praise due it, however, few flowers can boast its popularity as a cut flower or its effectiveness when used in this fashion.

Recent improvements made in Daisy strains, which include both annuals and perennials, have produced a variety of new forms to suit every gardener's taste. The recent Shasta introduction Jersey Cream, for instance, brings to the garden beautiful, double, four-inch flowers with strong stems, vigorous growth, great disease resistance and early, long-lasting blooms.

MELISSA, A semi-spider type from England, has a good stem and vigorous, hardy qualities of growth. Its flowers keep well. Snow Queen, introduced last year, is excellent for garden use, bearing double, five-inch flowers on a compact plant. It comes into bloom in warm winter spots in mid-December. The Award of Merit Winner in England, T. E. Killen features six-inch flowers of anemone type. Its cut flowers are very long-lasting.

Some of the "old-timer" Shasta daisies you will find blooming in your local nursery are: Esther Reed, Chiffon, Marconi and Majestic. These are all white in varied flower forms.

MICHAELMAS DAISIES, or Hardy Asters as they are also called, include many varieties with attractive colors and bloom shapes that appear in the garden after many perennials have ceased flowering. Michaelmas Daisies include the blue Aster Frikartii and other varieties that bloom in pink, blue, white, crimson and violet.

OCOTILLO LODGE at 1111 East Palm Canyon Drive is showing rapid progress, and when completed later this year will appear as shown above in the architect's drawing. The 132-apartment structure is a "club type" hotel designed especially for business executives or corporation.

Gardner's Checklist

1. Use a root irrigator or bore holes 18 inches deep around your trees so irrigation water can penetrate deeply.
2. Your nurseryman has many fine plants in containers, ready to bloom or already blooming. Use these to brighten areas where other plants have finished blooming.
3. Plant seeds of perennials now, if you want them to bloom next year.
4. Container grown shade trees can be planted now.
5. Visit flower shows and your County Fair for ideas for your garden.

'Face Lifting' Of Home Is Simplified Now

In many a family circle, first thoughts of home improvement will turn, this year, to the matter of "face lifting," with a view to giving the home's exterior a completely new look via one or more of the many new (and old) siding materials now available.

The most common material for resurfacing is wood (Redwood, cedar, Douglas fir and white pine) which presents itself in a variety of siding types.

Most popular is bevel or lap siding, applied horizontally, with the lower edge thicker than the upper. Wide panels (8 and 10 inches) are favored today over the 4- and 6-inch widths seen in older houses. Drop siding, which has a groove cut along one edge is also applied horizontally and lapped.

VERTICAL APPLICATIONS include box and batten siding (wide boards with narrow battens covering the joints) and tongue-and-groove paneling, which is especially adaptable to sheltered areas.

Cedar shakes and shingles make an attractive exterior wall, high in insulation value. The cedar shingle single-course exterior has proven extremely popular.

If a double-coursed wall is desired, economical cedar shingle undercoursing is laid first. The distinctive grooved or striated cedar shake is then laid directly over the undercoursing, with a resulting rich, deep shadow line, emphasizing the horizontal lines of the house.

ASBESTOS-CEMENT siding shingles are obtainable in many colors, impregnated into the material, which is very hard and fireproof.

HERE'S A PLANTER box with a double feature: rubber tire wheels and a simple trellis. It's easy to move around in the yard or on the patio, easy to build from sturdy panels of popular Texture One-Eleven grooved fir plywood.

Handsome Planter Box Is Also Trellis on Wheels

There's nothing like re-arranging the furniture to give you a new outlook on life.

That's just as true for your garden and terrace areas as inside the house. But a conventional planter box filled with dirt is a mighty heavy object for midday to move around. Here's an idea for a rolling unit that will give you plenty of versatility.

THE SIDES AND ends are slightly tapered to give it a more graceful appearance and the nice rustic look of the thing is easier to do than it looks. That's because the box is made with plywood with grooves already milled in the surface when you buy it. This material, originally developed for siding on a house, is called Texture One-Eleven. It is manufactured with completely waterproof glue and it has a slightly rough, unsanded face that provides the rustic feeling that is desirable in this kind of thing.

FROM ITS rubber-tire wheels to the top of its sturdy trellis, the portable planter stand 4' 4" high. Plastic clothesline is used for the trellis.

The planter is not too difficult a project for the part-time home handyman. A detailed construction plan for this practical do-it-yourself project may be obtained at no cost by writing Douglas Fir Plywood Association, Tacoma 2, Washington.

New Bond Issue Request Filed

The San Geronio Pass Farm Center recommended to the board of supervisors this week a bond issue of approximately $2,000,000 for county buildings, and placing of all sales tax receipts in the general fund to lower the tax rate. The recommendation was filed without comment.

Summer Pruning Proves Valuable For Fall Beauty

Summer pruning is a gardening technique which every gardener should learn and apply. If done correctly the amount of dormant pruning is greatly reduced, and the danger of some trees' bleeding is avoided. Furthermore spring-blooming shrubs and trees have more blossoms if pruned in the summer than in winter.

Ornamental trees and many broadleaved evergreens can be pruned in the summer and for early training of young fruit and ornamental trees, summer pruning is particularly valuable. Even the too-vigorous canes of deciduous shrubs can be tipped in summer without danger to the plant.

ACTUALLY PINCHING better describes the technique of summer pruning: in early summer pinch with the thumbnail or a light pair of shears. Work on those young shoots of three or four inches which are not needed for branches. Pinch the tips above a bud; the pinched shoots will continue to shade the bark of the shrub or tree and to produce plant foods, but they will not compete with the main branches. The strength of the plant will be diverted to the branches that form the framework you desire.

Six weeks after the first pinching back, inspect the plants to see if any new, undesirable growth needs to be checked.

THIS SUMMER pruning technique can be used on conifers as well as on spring blooming trees and shrubs, evergreen shrubs and young fruit trees. Pinch or shear back new growth on conifers while it is soft and short. Conifers should never be pruned back to old wood.

Brilliant Coloring, Growth Feature Bougainvillea a Plant

Brilliant coloring and rapid growth are the two best recommendations for planting an evergreen Bougainvillea vine in your garden or next to your house, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

A strong, twining climber, the Bougainvillea has medium size medium green leaves with insignificant flowers set in the middle of three bracts or outer petals. From these bracts, the Bougainvillea gets its brilliant coloring of rich red, purple or orange which literally blanket the vine from tip to trunk. In Southern California the Bougainvillea begins showing its brilliance in late spring and by the height of summer time it is blooming profusely in every area in which it thrives.

BECAUSE BRIGHT sun is the best friend of this evergreen vine, it is an outstanding plant for Southern California but it can, of course, be successfully grown in other parts of the state. Wherever planted, always keep in mind the profuse rich and brilliant coloring of the Bougainvillea and be sure not to plant near it other shrubs which will suffer or detract from this beauty.

In addition to the vineform, which grows to 20 feet, the Bougainvillea is also available as a compact and bushy shrub. The shrub form is newly introduced and is named Temple Fire or Red Bush Bougainvillea. Its flower bracts are deep red and the plant can be used in single plantings or combined to form a hedge or shrub border.

AMONG THE MOST popular varieties in the vine form of Bougainvillea are Barbara Karst, which has brilliant red flowers borne on the plant at an early age and Orange King, which features bronze-gold bracts on graceful sprays.

Other varieties are Bougainvillea brasiliensis (or spectabilis) with purple bracts; Convent, with enormous purple bracts for several months each year and California Gold, with long-blooming golden bracts.

COURAGE AND TRUTH

(Buckeye (Ariz.) Valley News)

The Democrats are making much of the fact that some Republicans are not in accord with the policy of the GOP bosses which proves two things... that the Demos read the papers and that there are Republicans who think more of their country than they do of blind party loyalty... unlike Truman, they believe that sticking with your buddies... even after they go to jail... is all very fine but when you are in a position of trust your first loyalty is to your constituents and your country... no citizen is bigger than the flag and what it stands for and if it comes to a choice they know which one they should salute... and we don't mean just going through the motions.

It is heartening to see that men like Senator Barry Goldwater, Congressman John Rhodes and that old Republican war horse, Clarence Buddington Kelland, have guts enough to stand up and question the policy of spending more than the taxpayers can stand.

These men feel that economy like charity should begin at home. Take the new House Office Building, urged because there is crowding in Washington, which wouldn't exist if the Hoover Commission Report was taken more seriously and some axe swinging indulged in around the over-stuffed offices in the nation's capital.

Now those who believe in first things first, voted against this building (cost $100 million) but the 176 so voting, 146 R. and 30 D. were outnumbered by the 206 who were for it, to the tune of 174 D. and 32 R. That this majority was largely made up of Demos, is also significant. This is the party that wants to tax and tax, spend and spend, elect and elect and some powerful Republicans in Washington should wake up and face the people with the truth... that you can't spend like a drunken sailor and stay solvent... right now Uncle Sam has to borrow money on short term, high interest loans to meet his obligations to his creditors... that is not the way to run a successful business and many honest legislators are courageous enough to stand up and say so.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Man and Master

WASHINGTON, D.C. — What ever happened to the economy drive? It came to a halt in mid-session about the time that the Senate and House, in separate actions, decided to build themselves new office buildings. After that, the majority of lawmakers hadn't the face to slash other people's port too thin. Only a few members of the economy-bloc are still fighting, and now they are appealing for help from the people back home.

"We need help, and we need it immediately," says Congressman Edgar W. Hiestand (R-Calif.) in a personal letter to this reporter. "We need help from the grassroots and we need it desperately. Congress, as you know, is highly sensitive to its constituency. Can you help us?"

WELL, I CAN urge every reader to write his Congressman and two Senators and demand an overall eight or ten per cent cut in the $72 billion budget. There isn't an informed person in Washington who doubts that the Federal bureaucracy, military as well as civilian, could sustain the cut.

The meat-ax method is always deemed as irresponsible and dangerous, but established economists like Senator Byrd regard it as a salutary, end-of-session measure. It is the only way for all Federal beneficiaries to share in an equitable sacrifice.

CONGRESSMAN Hiestand's appeal to the people has a dramatic quality and will not go unnoticed or unpraised, even if it fails. But the unsung work of economizing, much of which unhappily does fall, takes place in the smoke-filled committee rooms where the light of publicity rarely

HANDWRITING ON THE WALL

(Wallace (Idaho) Miner)

Representative Walter Judd has canvassed his constituents in Minneapolis, asking if they favored legislation imposing the same restrictions on union political contributions as now applying to corporations. The replies were: Yes, 79 per cent; No, 8 per cent; No Opinion, 13 per cent.

Many union members probably object to being assessed to support candidates whom individually they may oppose for the same reason they would object to being assessed by the firm for which they work to support its candidate.

There is significant handwriting on the wall in this response.

SMOKE, SMOKE, SMOKE

(Kitchener (Ont., Can.) Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

Canadians employed full time in the manufacture of tobacco have an annual payroll in excess of $25,000,000. Users of tobacco contribute a sizable portion of Ottawa's tax take. Last year $285,000,000 in excise taxes was collected by the tobacco industry for the federal treasury and a further $25,000,000 was contributed to provincial governments. This is a levy non-smokers escape, but they would have to help make up the difference in revenue if there were no tobacco taxes.

WHEN IS INCOME NOT INCOME?

(Summit (Miss.) Sun)

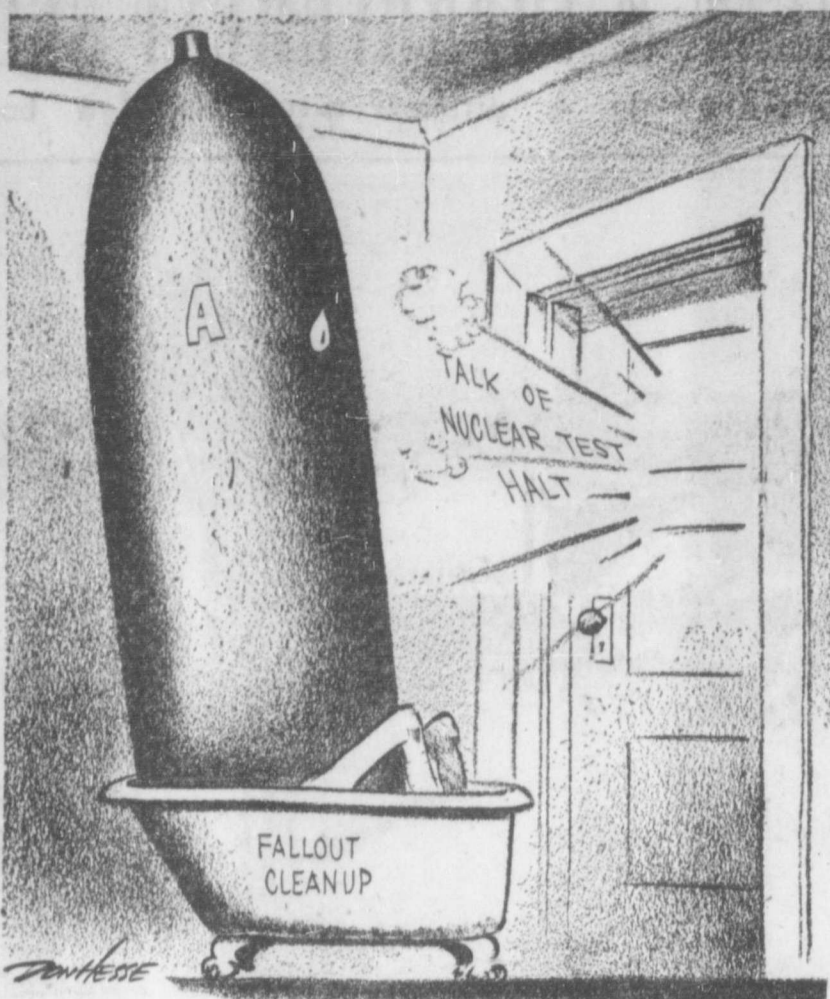

The wise-aces would doubtless wisecrack (and with real wisdom) "When it's all out-go," but the income tax boys apparently may call "income" whatever they wish.

For example, when a waiter receives tips that are his own, and for which he doesn't have to account to his employer, he must pay income tax on them. But they are not reckoned as income for social security purposes and they can't use them as a means of building up their hoped-for retirement benefits.

It's the old shell game—"Here it is: it's income. No, there it is. It's NOT income!"

You figure it out, bud — our head aches!

Seven busy councilmen
Sitting in a line,
Along comes redistricting
Then there may be nine.

Just like the Supreme Court—only they aren't so old. But think of the possibility of splits, from 5 to 1 to 5 to 4.

A terrible pun just reared its ugly head. People with propositions will hope for a council resign.

FOR SOME REASON the above makes me think of a story I read in the "Oklahoma Covered Wagon."

After one shuddering bite, the customer is a little café-summoned the waitress.

"Miss, what's wrong with these eggs?" he asked.
"Don't ask me," she nipped back. "I only laid the table."

UNDERSTAND THAT it is planned that not only will auto license numbers be placed here and aft as they are at present but soon they'll be painted in large numbers on the roofs, too. (Maybe that should be rooves.)

That's for the day, said to be in the near future, when traffic cops will take to the air in helicopters.

Which, I am afraid, will give undue advantage to people riding in convertibles.

IT HAS BEEN more than a year, now, since California's three-letter, three digit, license plates have been mentioned in these columns.

But it seems there's a new game extant now among bored automobile passengers. Looking for letter combinations which make Roman numerals such as MCV.

Players decide who'll be first, second and so on and fix the length of the course. Then they lay a small wager on who'll get the highest total.

IF THEY CAN'T spot a Roman numeral combination in their span they're out of luck — and cash.

The other day I spotted an MCV, the illustration I used up above, and was leading the pack with 1105 when in the last block of the game, up comes an MCL to beat me by 45.

In case of ties, the plate numbers decide it. You've got to be quick with the eye.

The driver can't play. He's got to watch traffic.

WELL, TODAY they are here. Top beauties from all over the world. Long Beach, where I now am (at) is going to choose a Miss Universe.

The universe, according to Messrs. Funk and Wagnalls, "embraces all celestial bodies, all space." That words "embraces" sounds inviting here but I saw no entries from Mars, Jupiter, Saturn.

I almost spelled that last one "sauterne" but that's just the stuff that may make you see as many moons as Saturn has.

ANYWAY, IF the other planets of the universe are not represented, Venus is.

Only here she has both arms and that ain't all.

Reminds me of what the "Woodman" magazine says: "The old fashioned girl was admired for her needle-work. The modern girl relies on her pins."

INEZ ROBB:

Usual Last Word

Winston Churchill, as usual, had the last word when he described Russia as "a riddle wrapped in a mystery, inside an enigma." (I hope I have the right progression.)

What the latest upheaval in the Communist hierarchy means is any man's guess, but experts on Russia in and out of the State Department are agreed that it consolidates Nikita Khrushchev's power and makes him "the first among equals" among the commissars.

Or, as George Orwell put it so succinctly in "Animal Farm," all animals are equal only some are more equal than others. (It is probably only a coincidence that the animal proclaiming this doctrine of equality was a pig, for Orwell wrote his little masterpiece on Communism before Khrushchev hit the horizon.)

So far, so good. But how the experts en masse ever arrived at the conclusion, as they did, that the present purge of Molotov, Malenkov, Kaganovich, et al, is "a smashing victory for Khrushchev's liberal 'New Look' policies of easing tension at home and abroad" beats me.

Well, sir, my Geiger counter is still hitting on all four cylinders, and if Khrushchev is a tranquilizer, I'm St. Vitus. If Khrushchev is an old tension-easer, why is it that the supply of happiness pills in the Western World can't keep up with the demand?

Or maybe Khrushchev's reputation as a liberal at home is based on the fact that he merely tossed Molotov, et al, out the door instead of dispatching them to the hideous Lubienka prison to be liquidated as was Stalin's procedure with thousands of his former associates. (Beria, who was executed by Khrushchev in the beginning of his regime, doesn't count on the old Gilbert-Sullivan theory that a policeman's lot is not a happy one.)

But how, in the face of the Soviet butchery in Hungary, the experts on Russia figure that Khrushchev's triumph at home means "liberalization of policy toward the satellite nations" is beyond me. At the moment, the Khrushchev regime stands indicted not only by humanity but by a carefully-documented United Nations investigation as the gory executioner of Hungarian freedom, the Hungarian nation and God alone knows how many Hungarian men, women and children.

So now that the experts have had their day with the riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma, I would like to speculate on a possible cause for the latest Kremlin revolution.

Russia is going to have to stand before the U.N. sooner or later, indicted as the butcher of Hungary. Two courses are open to her present rulers.

They can brazen out their murderous repression of the rebellious satellite as a noble assist to the Hungarian proletariat in a civil war with reactionaries and ruthless imperialists. Or Khrushchev and Co., caught red-handed, can cop a plea that the murderous Hungarian intervention was the work of ruthless Stalinists Molotov, Malenkov, Kaganovich, et al, trained in the unrelenting Stalinist school of satellite suppression.

If I were running the United Nations, I would immediately call a meeting of the General Assembly to consider the devastating indictment of Russian action in Hungary contained in the U.N.'s own committee report. Let us call the General Assembly into session now, before the new Kremlin gang is consolidated, and let Khrushchev and Co. sweat it out before the bar of world opinion.

Then perhaps we can judge just how "liberal" the new mob is—and just how dedicated to easing tensions at home and abroad.

EARL WILSON:

Jack Paar and His Buttons

NEW YORK — Broadway and Hollywood Comedian, Jack Paar has told me quite an amazing tale of how he got into radio and TV... and became so ad glib.

"As a boy living in Canton and Cleveland, O., and Jackson and Detroit, Mich., I was sickly," recalled Jack, "and my father got me a little workbench near my bed.

"There I made little radio sets... but I couldn't hope to be on radio... because I stuttered."

"I read somewhere about Demosthenes becoming an orator by talking with pebbles in his mouth. I would take the buttons out of my mother's sewing basket, put them in my mouth, and go into the basement and read."

"I learned to speak without stuttering and at 16, I got a job as an announcer."

"And that started you on your way to success?" I asked Jack whose taking over NBC's "Tonight" show shortly.

"Well, not exactly. Some of the sponsors wish I still stuttered—I'd make the commercials last longer."

Anyway, the moral is that as soon as Jack lost his buttons, he became a famous TV personality.

Due to Bob Hope's "Beau James" picture about Jimmy Walker, they're reviving Walker tales.

When Jimmy was making his great reputation as an orator, if he faced a noisy crowd, he didn't speak at all—he just moved his lips.

Soon everybody'd be saying, "Sssh, what's he saying?" Then he had to have something to say. Once when a woman said it must be hard to be Mayor of N.Y., Jimmy replied, "Yes, lady, you can see my light at City Hall burning hours after I've gone." His predecessor, the late Mayor John Hylan, once asked him, "What would you do if you ever had MY day's work to do?" Jimmy retorted, "I'd do it in half a day."

So how come Frank Parker the bachelor doesn't get married on his own program now that he's doing "Bride and Groom"?

Photog Gary Wagner asked friends, "What would Grace Kelly say if I asked to photograph her when I go to Europe in the fall?" They told him, "She'd tell you that you must be nuts." So Gary said, "Then why did she write me this letter saying she'd be glad to?"

So many Westerns are heading TV-ward next season, it looks as though any other type of tele-show will be branded as offbeat!... Murphys Take Trip On Ship

Among the many vacationing Villagers scattered across tourist pathways around the globe today are Harold and Florence Murphy. Reporting via air mail from Panama, the Murphys related their adventures aboard ship while traveling through the Big Ditch—the Panama Canal—for the benefit of landlocked desert dwellers. They boarded the Holland-America Line ship R.M.S. Danderyk two weeks ago and last week passed through the Gulf of Mexico, viewing Acapulco from the sea, en route to the Canal. "Our Captain, who is quite a guy, is a dead ringer for Charles Laughton in 'Mutiny on the Bounty' as he paces the deck, smoking a big cigar," the Murphys wrote. The shipboard Villagers later enjoyed a sea chase staged when their adventuresome captain raced, (and lost) a school of whales. 'Living Sculptors' Presentation Of Pageant to Have New Features

New section, new costumes, new ways have been created for the bas relief from the Albert Memorial "living sculpture" reproduction in the "30 Command Performance" presentation of the Pageant of the Masters at the 22nd Annual Festival of Arts, Irvine Bowl, Laguna Beach, July 20 through August 18. In addition to the 20 figures which have been done in the past in this magnificent sculptural art reproduction, the 1957 Pageant of the Masters will present 30 figures from the famed memorial. Ginny Stoddart, director for the bas relief, revealed today. Included in the "living sculpture" reproduction this season will be: Fra Angelico, Ghirlandajo, Masaccio, Leonardo da Vinci, Raphael, Michael Angelo, Bellini, Titian, Montagna, Corneille, Molliere, Cervantes, Virgil, Dante, Pythagoras of Samos, Homer, Chaucer, Shakespeare, Milton, Goethe, Schiller, Bach, Hayden, Niccolò Pissano, Ghiberti, Luca Del Robbia, W. Törel, William of Ireland, Verrocchi and Donatello. Always one of the most popular of the Pageant's reproductions, the bas relief becomes truly spectacular with this year's presentation. Producer Howard "Hap" Graham declared. To enhance the "realism" of the presentation and bring authenticity in reproduction to the spectators, new costumes have been made this year. More than 400 yards of light grey material have gone into the tunics, robes and is even used in the making of the headpieces in order to give the bas relief reproduction its full value. The new grey material background replaces the former painted one. Residents Invited To Minnesota Picnic Desert area residents of Minnesota origin today were invited to attend the annual picnic of the Minnesota State Society of Long Beach, at 1 p.m., Sunday, July 21. Lunches and coffee may be purchased on the grounds, according to Lola Kavanaugh, president. Soot-streaked painted walls, woodwork and window sills are best washed before the grime sets. Use clean soft cloths wrung from warm soap or detergent suds.

Christian Dior Displays New 'Mobile Look'

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—Christian Dior, who 10 years ago dropped the hemline, now has hauled the waistline down.

The French designer, in his New York collection for fall, defined the new silhouette either with low-placed belts or by the cut of dresses and suit jackets.

To go with it, he also made skirts just a bit bigger. But no cause for alarm, girls. This time, unlike the drastic lengthening of 1947, skirts are down no more than an inch. Dior's office explained the hemline is "in keeping with the lowered waistline."

FOR EVENING, the designer showed hemlines often short in front and long in back.

It is anybody's guess whether the New York wholesale line is a harbinger of what he will show Aug. 1 in his Paris custom collection.

The Dior collection was one of seven designer groups displayed for fashion reporters attending shows by the couture group of the New York Dress Institute.

Sometimes Dior's lowered waistline is more in the "feeling" of cut rather than in anatomical location. This is the case with some of the suit jackets which hug the upper hipbone but are unlabeled and completely "at ease" through the midriff. Several of these shorter jackets are belted, but designed so the bottom button isn't used.

IN OTHER COSTUMES, Dior definitely spells out the low waistline with belts set two to three inches below the normal one.

One handsome dress in black silk and wool is completely straight of line, with attached belt of the same fabric starting about two inches from the natural waist, winding around the upper hip, and instead of joining, finishing off a couple of inches lower. Small bows of the fabric designate the beginning and end of the belt.

THE FRENCHMAN, never a man to let a collection go without a monicker, calls his new silhouette the "Mobile Look."

It features necklines often collarless and usually standing away from the neck. When collared, the clothes are either scarf-tied, or draped. Sleeves are loose fitting. Skirts generally are slim, but a few are pleated or draped.

Precious Blood Church Plans Labor Day Carnival

BANNING — Five thousand dollars is the goal Precious Blood Catholic Church is shooting for at its first Labor Day weekend Carnival, it was announced at a parish meeting in the school hall by Gene Rutten, general chairman.

The church grounds, 504 North Second Street, will be the setting for the two-day event being given on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 1 and 2, with Al Pearce, radio and television star, not only acting as the master of ceremonies but the head chef.

Proceeds from the carnival will be used to decrease the $100,000 indebtedness of the parochial school which was built four years ago and averages annual enrollment of 260 pupils. The heretofore annual fall bazaar and May fiesta are being dropped in favor of this one major fund-raising affair. Semi-permanent booths are now in the process of being constructed.

Working with the carnival committee are the church's organizations, including the PTA of which Mrs. John Weisenberg is president; the Altar Society, Mrs. John Roche; Women's Guild, Mrs. Paul Teach, and the Holy Name Society, Rutten.

On Rutten's committee are Glenn Brown, assistant chairman; Orval Risvold, tickets and publicity; Robert Kiernan, entertainment, and Charles Miller, advertising.

Now in Jackson
Ann and Bob White are spending the summer months at Jackson, Wyo., and plan to return here in the fall.

Forget Calories In This Dessert For Summertime

NEW YORK (AP)—A richer, more nourishing lemon pie is made with milk instead of water.

Mix 1 cup of sugar, 5 tablespoons of cornstarch and 1/4 teaspoon salt in the top of a double boiler. Stir in 2 cups of milk gradually. Cook over boiling water until thick, stirring constantly. Cover, cook 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Beat 3 egg yolks. Stir in milk mixture gradually. Return to double boiler. Cook and stir 2 minutes. Then blend in 2 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind and 1/4 cup lemon juice. Cool. Pour into pie shell. Beat 3 egg whites until stiff. Beat in 6 tablespoons sugar gradually. Mound meringue on filling. Bake in hot oven (425°) for 8 minutes or until light brown. Cool. Serves 6.

The color of the shell of an egg has nothing to do with its food value, flavor or quality.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP)—The next time you have a blowout, keep in mind the case of Capt. George E. T. Eyston—who has to be the all-time iceberg of auto racing.

This goes back to 1938 on the Bonneville salt flats in Utah when Eyston drove the "thunderbolt" all-out down the black-painted strip stretching interminably before him. The needle was pressing 350 miles per hour, the motor whined like a banshee and hot air hammered against the glass bubble over his head with frenzied fists.

THEN THE SEVEN-TON iron monster trembled violently as all four tires blew.

"It was," says Eyston with stolid British calm, "a bit of a nuisance."

Eyston fought it safely down and the next day the tall, white-haired Englishman eased himself back into that coffin-like cockpit and roared to a world speed record of 337.5 miles per hour.

Eyston went back to Bonneville in 1954 for a 24-hour endurance run and had another close one.

THIS TIME HE was doing a mere 175 m.p.h. on a circular track when he burst a rear tire. Eyston slid a half mile sideways and came to a standstill just two feet from a salt bank which, had he struck it, would have flipped him end over end. His recollection is equally stiff-upper-lip, old boy.

"It seemed like quite a long slide."

Three years later, the late John R. Cobb invaded Bonneville with his Ralston Special and broke Eyston's world record with a run of 403.135 m.p.h. Cobb later was killed in a speedboat crash on Scotland's Loch Ness.

EYSTON'S RACING days are "almost" behind him now for the wealthy Briton is 60 years old. But he intimates that he's hoping to get behind the wheel once again next month at Bonneville.

This time he's going there as manager of a British team which will try to break the Class F record of 204.2 m.p.h. set by Lt. Col. Goldie Gardner in Germany in 1939. Stirling Moss, the famed British driver of this era, will handle the wheel.

EYSTON'S BABY this time is a 1,500 cc MG called "The Roaring Raindrop." It is only 15 feet long and three-feet high to the top of the plastic dome, with tires which are only two feet overall on a 15-inch wheel.

Was that his most embarrassing experience? Not at all. He went back to England with his brand-new 375.5 m.p.h. record in 1938—and was arrested for driving 35 miles per hour in a 30-mile zone.

Williams Seeks Bout with Vaughn

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tiger Al Williams today sought a return bout with Willie Vaughn following his impressive technical knockout win over Ruben Hernandez at Olympic Auditorium.

Williams, 160, Los Angeles, battered Hernandez, 159, San Francisco, nearly helpless Thursday night before the referee halted the bout at 1:16 of the fifth round.

Desert Hot Springs softballers rode behind the sizzling pitching of Neal Green last night to whitewash Mhoon and Mhoon, 3 to 0, and chalk up the second DHS no-hitter this week.

The losing pitcher, Paul Nielsen, gave up only three hits in a tight pitching duel fought all the way down to the closing minutes.

IT WAS ALMOST a repeat performance for the league leading Desert Hot Springs team that blanked M&M Grocery 8 to 0 Tuesday night in a no-hitter pitched by Bill Tichener. Losing pitcher was Kenny Price.

Now embarking on the fourth and final round of the season's softball circuit, DHS is eyeing a possible series with Riverside. The boys at the county seat claim they've run out of "worthy" opposition there.

DHS softballers are willing to take a crack at blunting the drive of the league leaders from the other end of the county.

IN ACTION at the Polo Grounds last night, M&M-Lehrfeld scored 11 runs in the first five innings last night to take an easy 11 to 0 win over the last place Telephone Company team.

The game was called as soon as M&M took the 11-run lead, in accordance with league rules.

The winners were paced by two home runs, Kenny Price's in the third and Paul Dunne's in the fifth. Price also belted a double and single, and shut out the opposing team with two hits.

The Telephone Company never seriously threatened.

Ford Shares Canadian Lead

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP)—Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., who admits he's "playing like gangbusters now," shared the lead with two tall Texans today as the field teed off for the third round of the Canadian Open golf championship.

Ford, Freddie Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Henry Ransom, a Texas cattle rancher playing out of St. Louis, Mo., reached the halfway mark of the 72-hole tournament Thursday with aggregate scores of 136.

No Mistake! Orioles Are in 1st Division

Sweep Twin Bill
From Indians
To Take Fourth

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
Typographical error, my eye! That's really the Baltimore Orioles right up there in the first division today, and it's the first time they have ever been that high this late in the season since they entered the American League.

The amazing Orioles reached the lofty region of fourth place Thursday night by sweeping a two-night double-header from the fading Indians by the scores of 5-4 and 5-4 (no typo, either), the first game going 11 innings.

PILOT PAUL Richards, who makes the type moves no other manager will dare, gave a Houdini-like exhibition in an all-out effort to crash the first division.

He yanked starter Ray Moore in the seventh inning of the first game even though the score was tied and he had two strikes on Roger Maris. Ken Lehman completed the strikeout but he needed help from George Zuverink in the last of the 11th after the Orioles had scored two runs in the top of the frame on singles by Gus Triandos and Jim Busby.

THEN, IN THE nightcap, Richards pulled out Bill Wight in the third inning even though Baltimore had built a 5-0 lead off Bob Lemon. He again called in Zuverink, who gained his eighth victory, and when the hard-working Zuverink weakened in the eighth, Richards led with his ace, Billy Loes.

All that masterminding paid off in the Orioles' 14th victory in their last 20 games. They are now a half-game ahead of both Cleveland and Detroit, and only three games behind the third-place Red Sox, who defeated the Tigers Thursday, 9-7.

The Yankees padded their league lead to 3½ games when Mickey Mantle's 23rd home run in the 11th inning produced a 3-2 triumph over Kansas City, and Washington rallied for two runs in the ninth to beat the second-place White Sox, 6-5.

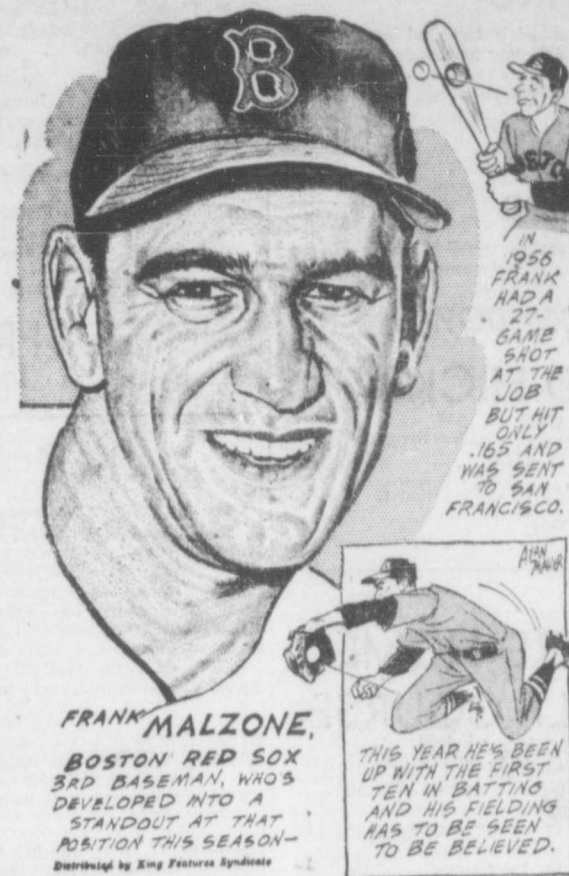

THE PHILLIES took over second place in the National League by capturing a two-night twin bill from the Cubs, winning the 11-inning opener, 1-0, and the finale, 3-1. The Giants defeated the Cardinals, 1-0; Brooklyn edged Cincinnati, 5-4, in a game marked by fist fights, and Milwaukee beat Pittsburgh, 7-2.

Hartack Out For Three Weeks

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Hartack, the country's leading jockey, stayed in his hospital bed by doctor's orders today and it appeared he would spend at least four more days there.

Also, Dr. Herman J. Carr, track physician at Arlington Park, said that the broken vertebra Hartack suffered in a spill Wednesday would sideline him for "about three weeks."

Of Village Nines

Pony and Colt League teams will stage a doubleheader at the Polo Grounds Saturday night. City Recreation Director Howard Had-dock announced today.

First up, at 6:30 p. m., are the Pony League Elks and the Indio Braves. Pony League baseballers range in age from 13 to 14.

The evening's second game gets underway at 8:30, featuring the Palm Springs Colt League vs. the Colton Engineers. This marks the second Village appearance of the Colts, whose players are 15 and 16 years old.

The Colts have won their last four league games. The teams are co-sponsored by the Palm Springs Elks Club and the City Park and Recreation Department.

The public is invited to attend the Saturday night twin-bill. Admission is free.

Little Leaguers To Play Tonight

The Little League race will be a little clearer after action tonight.

At the present time, the Junior Police hold a two-game lead, with the other three teams tied for second place.

Tonight, the Hathaway - Buick Braves meet the Cameron Stars at 7 pm, and the Boys Club plays the Junior Police at 8:30.

The public is invited to attend. Admission is free.

Gomes Favored To Take Perez In TV Fight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lightweight Harold Gomes of Providence, R.I., is a 7-5 favorite to spoil the comeback of little-Lulu Perez of Brooklyn tonight in a 10-round televised bout.

The bout will be Gomes' first one away from the East Coast and only his second on TV. The fast-climbing lightweight owns a record of 39 victories in 42 bouts, including 20 knockouts.

Perez will be after his third straight comeback victory, after overcoming a blood deficiency, which marred his fighting efforts during the past two years.

Fighting as a featherweight, Perez lost to Sandy Saddler in a title bout two years ago. His career went into a tailspin until doctors noted the blood deficiency.

Miteff, Mederos Sign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heavyweights Alex Miteff of Argentina and Julio Mederos of Cuba have been signed to meet in a 10-round bout here on July 36. Miteff is undefeated in 10 professional bouts.

GOLFER LORRAINE Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., had to hedge on her swing here as she found herself in the clubhouse shrubbery in a recent tournament. She plopped the ball out of the bushes on to a roadway and it bounced on the green. (International).

Satterfield Asks for One More Chance at Champion

By IRA LURVEY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Satterfield quietly sat in a darkened corner of his modest South Side apartment today and said all he wants is to be a champion.

"I've reformed. Honest, I have," he pleaded. "No more playing around for me. Boxing is the only business I know and that is what I'm treating it like now: a business."

Satterfield said he'd fight anyone in either the light-heavy or heavyweight divisions.

"ALL I WANT is to be champ. I don't care which champ," he said.

But the only trouble, Satterfield said, is that no one will fight him. "Why not, mister?" he asked.

"Why won't they just let me come back once more? I'm only 34."

Three times Satterfield has come within a hair's breadth of a title fight. He's been within an official announcement of an opportunity to prove himself, three times he's been shoved aside.

IN 1951, SATTERFIELD was slated to meet light heavyweight champ Joey Maxim in Chicago. But the battle was switched to New York at the last minute and Maxim fought, and beat, Bob Murphy.

Then it was 1954 and Satterfield was guaranteed $30,000 if he'd take on light heavy champ Archie Moore in Miami. But first, Satterfield wanted one final "soft one," so they booked him against Marty Marshall.

Marshall knocked Satterfield out in the second round.

LATER THE IBC promised him a shot at Rocky Marciano and the heavyweight title. While waiting for the match, Satterfield and Manager Ike Bernstein figured they'd pick up some easy money by taking on Johnny Holman.

Satterfield had met Holman twice before. Once he knocked him out in the tenth round. The other time he finished him in the first round.

"I told Bob in the dressing room that night he'd have to make a choice," Bernstein said. "Either quit playing or quit fighting."

"If I'd grown-up sooner I'd have been a long way along by now," said Satterfield today. "A guy's gotta grow up."

Mystery Man Killed in Crash Still Unidentified

California Highway Patrolmen were today still unable to positively identify a man who died instantly in an auto crash near Thousand Palms yesterday.

Officers said the man about 40, was killed when his car sped off the highway and rolled over about five miles west of Thousand Palms. The unidentified driver apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

A passenger in the auto, hitchhiker Glenn Wood, 56, of Los Angeles, received several cuts and bruises. Both occupants were thrown from the rolling auto.

A social security card found on the victim carried the name of Lloyd Smith Campbell, whom police believe may be a resident of Indio. However, the car registration was made out to another man in Santa Ana.

Road Project Bids Requested

City administrators today prepared to advertise for construction bids on improvement and widening of East Ramon Road, from Sunrise Way to the end of the high school property.

City councilmen yesterday approved the call for bids on the road project to be financed mostly by funds from the state gas tax treasury.

The project includes curbing of the Ramon Road-Sunrise Way intersection and widening paving and installation of curbs and gutters of the road to the beginning of the St. Theresa Church property.

Perfumed Scarecrow

ATLANTA, Mich. — (UP) — Howard Kurtz has figured out a way to keep the deer out of his garden, but Mrs. Kurtz is running out of perfume. Kurtz built a scarecrow that he sprays with perfume which he said is for discouraging deer.

Department of Employment Seeks Applications for Help

The Department of Employment is seeking applications from residents who wish to work in the Indio local office, 83-151 Requa, as Employment and Claims Assistant.

Richard J. Nelson, manager, said persons selected as a result of an examination on Aug. 3 will be given regular civil service appointments but will be called in to work only as needed. Intermittent employees may work part time each day or full time for several days or weeks.

EMPLOYMENT AND claims assistants give information on jobs available in the community and interview persons claiming unemployment benefits. The salary is $2.05 an hour.

Nelson said local residents are preferred because of the intermittent nature of employment.

Desirable qualifications include graduation from either college or high school and two years of recent technical or management experience in such fields as labor, industrial relations or public relations. Experience in employment, personnel, health and welfare administration, or insurance, also is desirable.

APPLICANTS SHOULD be able to speak effectively, meet the public and exercise sound judgment. Interested persons may obtain applications at the Indio office. The final date for accepting applications is July 24.

Mineral production was reported in 1956 from 230 of Texas' 254 counties.
